Team Uniform Policies and Expectations

Uniform ordering and on-time fulfillment is a complex process with many variables. In an effort to make this as seamless an experience as possible, we would like to provide you with all the necessary information for us to work together to ensure you receive your uniforms on time at an affordable price that meets your expectations. These policies and procedures are intended to make sure you and your Sales Representative are completely aligned heading into your uniform ordering process. If you are a returning uniform customer, some of these policies will be new to you, so please be sure to discuss this with your Sales Representative.

WE APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS AND LOOK FORWARD TO WORKING WITH YOU!

ORDER TURN-TIME

The order turn-time is the time it takes from order submission to the time the completed products will ship out. Decorated uniform order turn-times vary significantly depending on the products, required decoration and time of year. Please communicate with your Sales Representative and come to an agreement regarding the turn-time for your order at least one month prior to order placement.

Turn-times change constantly for a number of reasons. As a result, there is no guarantee your order will be produced with the same turn-time each year. Therefore, you cannot assume a specific turn-time can be met without confirming this with your Sales Representative.

PRODUCT AVAILABILITY

We cannot confirm product availability until after all information (styles, colors and sizes) has been provided. Even then, there may be a short delay in receiving your order due to securing the inventory from our vendor(s). Therefore, style changes and/or size bumps may be necessary to fulfill your order.

If a style change and/or size bump is necessary, you will receive that information from your Sales Representative or via email from ADSTARRuniforms@dcsg.com.

ORDER SUBMISSION FORMAT

All orders must be submitted on the Microsoft Excel order form(s) that will be provided by your Sales Representative.

If you attempt to submit an order in any other way (over the phone, text of an email, any file other than the designated order form, etc.), your Sales Representative will request that you resubmit the order during the same business day. Any delay in order resubmission will delay your requested delivery date.

For example, if you resubmit your order in the correct format two business days later, your delivery date will now be pushed back by two business days. Any expedited shipping costs as a result of this delay will be the responsibility of the customer.

SHIPPING

Uniform orders will be sent out via FedEx Ground. We are happy to expedite your order(s) to accommodate your needs. Expedited shipping will result in additional charges. Please let your Sales Representative know if you require expedited shipping and they will be able to provide the cost for all options (i.e. overnight, two-day, etc.).

If you are delayed in responding to communication regarding art, size bump and/or style change approval and expedited shipping is required as a result of these delays, you will be responsible for the additional shipping costs.

ART PROOFS AND APPROVALS

If specifically requested by you or deemed necessary by A.D. STARR, digital art proofs will be provided to you for approval by item/style and not by each color or variation of garment.

Please note that graphics placement on a digital proof serves only as an approximation and does not reflect exact placement due to garment or item cut.

In order to meet a requested turn-time, artwork approval is required within one business day or earlier upon receipt of final production proof. Any delay in art approval beyond the A.D. STARR-specified time frame could result in arrival delays.

For any artwork modification, you will incur a $25 design fee for each request starting with the second instance.

For example, if you receive an initial proof and then request four rounds of changes, you will incur $75 in design fees. By contrast, if you receive an initial proof and only require one round of changes, you will not be charged any design fees.

You will receive art proofs and approvals from your Sales Representative or via email from ADSTARRuniforms@dcsg.com.

ADD-ONS/SMALL QUANTITY ORDERS

There is no guarantee that add-ons can be produced any faster than the production of your initial order or at the same costs. This varies significantly across product type and required decoration. Therefore, please discuss the parameters around small quantity/add-on orders with your Sales Representative.

RETURN POLICIES

All returns must be agreed upon with your Sales Representative and approved in writing.

Custom and/or decorated items are not eligible for return or refund with the exception of manufacturer errors or defects.

Customers are responsible for any shipping costs related to returns that are a result of incorrectly ordered products (i.e. customer provided wrong item number, wrong quantity, etc.).

Non-decorated/non-customized uniform products may be eligible for return or refund based on vendor policies but are not guaranteed. Please note that returns may be subject to a restocking fee.

We request that all products be reviewed within 48 hours of delivery to ensure issues can be addressed as soon as possible.

Any discrepancies should be reported no later than five business days via email to your A.D. STARR Sales Representative. All returns/exchanges require approval and no returns/exchanges will be approved beyond two weeks of order receipt.

If replacement products are due to customer error (forgot to order, incorrect information provided, etc.) the products will likely be more expensive than the initial order due to order decoration setup costs and/or not meeting product or shipping minimums.

Due to product availability/current production schedules, we will make every effort to complete your order in a timely manner but cannot guarantee that replacement items will arrive within requested time frames.
